Tribute to Joe Hayes

Joe was a man who understood colour and texture like a very few others. He was able to bring these aspects to wood and encouraged others to follow his lead.

Joe joined the Christchurch Woodturners Assn in 2008. He started as a student on the sixth Aoraki Polytechnic Certificate in Woodturning shortly afterwards. Before he graduated from this course in 2012, he took on a role of an assistant tutor of this and future courses.

His knowledge in the fields of design, colour, texture and pyrography was an inspiration to us all. His ability to teach was evident from the start – soft spoken approach, giving clear and easy directions to follow, able to work with people of all abilities and the praise heaped on individuals' efforts.

In February 2016 Joe started the Pyrography Group in the woodwork room of Cobham Intermediate School. This was the start of taking texture and colour in the club.

Joe was elected to the Committee in 2011 and was quickly identified as the best candidate to take on the role of editor of Splinters - our newsletter, a role he took on with great vigour.

In November 2017 our long association with Cobham Intermediate came to an end. The workshop on Auburn Reserve became available. Joe was on our sub committee throughout this long process.

Joe continued to give his all until his mobility was lost.

Our thoughts are with his wife Brenda and sons Daniel and Zac.
